Dear Dr. Kazmir:

I write to extend congratulations to you and your American International School System colleagues on the establishment of your new private school in Lahore, Pakistan. The materials I have reviewed attest to the value of this educational initiative.

I understand AISS has articulated a curriculum that emphasizes critical learning skills in a context of human dignity. At this juncture in world affairs, your efforts deserve special commendation.

Your vision of fostering understanding between Pakistani and American children is indeed praiseworthy. It will help to increase cultural awareness in both countries. I applaud Mr. Chaudhry Pervez Elahi, Chief Minister of Punjab, for his support of your venture. Please convey my best wishes when he joins you on the school's opening day.

Dr. Kazmir, you and your AISS colleagues represent civic diplomacy and philanthropic commitment in their best senses. I am pleased to endorse your work and look forward to its success and growth.

Sincerely,
